Community Mourns Loss

Final Tribute

Tribute by Lesley Clark MLA Member for Barron River - 'Hansard' extract of speech to the Queensland Parliament.' 15 September 1999

The late Esme Hudson, who was presented with the 1999 Queensland Premier's Award being congratulated by L. Lesley Clark (MLA) & R. Premier Peter Beattie.

The Aboriginal community of the Cairns region is mourning the loss of three much-loved and respected people, all gone within the space of just seven days.

Tiger O'Shane was the first, followed by Esme Hudson but then as relatives were preparing to bury dear Aunty Es, her brother-in-law, Lionel Levers, suddenly died, dealing a double blow to the Kuranda Aboriginal community.

Attending the funerals and sharing the grief of their children, amongst them friends I have known for many years, it made me appreciate even more the strength and courage that Aboriginal people demonstrate in the face of adversity and the close family ties that support them through difficult times. I would like to pay my respects to these three special people, and extend my deepest sympathies to their extended families. In particular, to Sonny, Sandra and Dawn who lost both their father Lionel and their Aunty Esme and to Rose who lost her dearest sister and former husband Lionel.

Both Lionel Levers and Esme Hudson were born in the 1920s on the Mona Mona Mission outside Kuranda. While both had fond childhood memories of the mission, they applied for exemption certificates leaving to accept the challenge of making their way in the outside world. They moved with their families to Kuranda, working hard at whatever jobs were available, raising their families but also dealing with racism and discrimination.

In documenting Esme's achievements I would like to acknowledge the assistance of her niece, Sandra Tanna.

COMMUNITY LETTERS

PO BOX 66 KURANDA 4872

PLEASE NOTE: The Kuranda Paper attempts to print all letters received. Please keep yours to the point and under 200 words. All are subject to editing. We do not publish anonymous letters or those of doubtful origin. Please ensure your correct signature, name, full street address and phone contact are submitted with your letter. Opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Kuranda Paper.

Dear Kuranda Paper,
African Tulip Trees are flowering profusely in many parts of Kuranda but are a menace. The seeds can blow for many kilometres. The birds do not feed on the blooms, as they contain a nasty juice that burns the eyes and ears. Children must be warned not to blow these toxic juices onto other children. Eradicate every Tulip Tree and plant no more. They are an introduced tree from Africa.

The Mareeba Shire will, I hope, continue to eradicate the Tulip Trees growing on the road verges.

Majorie Spears, Black Mountain Road.

P.S. I am delighted to hear the Kuranda Paper has many new helpers so its future is secure.

Community Mourns Loss

Recognising that equity was not a reality for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, Esme became involved in social justice issues and developed her personal motto "There is no such thing as can't". Auntie Es (as she is affectionately known by many people) and others were instrumental in forming very important Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations in the Cairns area. Organisations that she was involved in at their formation included Woompera-Muralug Housing Society, the Wuchopperen Medical Service, Boopa-Werem Kindergarten, Njiku Jowan Aboriginal Legal Service and the original Mona Mona Co-operative.

But Esme Hudson's most important contribution to her community came as a co-cook, co-carer of Mookai Rosie-Bi-Bayan and with Bonnie Simpson lived on site meeting the needs of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women who would come to stay at the house to await the arrival of their child or to visit a specialist at the Cairns Base Hospital. Funds were scarce and Esme and Bonnie would sacrifice their Aged Pensions to ensure nutritious food was on the table, fuel was in her own vehicle to take any client or patient to the hospital, and that there was always plenty of love and laughter on the premises. She has also been the greatest influence in her sons' career and performer and entertainer. David Hudson was a co-founder of Tjapukai Dance Theatre and his mother was often seen delivering brochures and pamphlets for the company. When David was little his mother could be seen doubling him on her bicycle taking him to drum, singing or dancing practice. Her dedication has paid off because now David has gone on to bigger and better things, performing in many of the world's most famous venues.

I first met Esme when we worked together at the Cairns TAFE College in 1982 where I also came to know her son David who was studying there. I was very privileged to be present in Brisbane last month when Esme's work for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people was recognised and she received the 1999 Premier's Award for Queensland service from Peter Beattie and Anna Bligh. (Our photo with Premier Beattie is one that I will treasure.) Mookai Rosie's other two founders, her sister Rose and friend Bonnie Simpson, were recipients of the Premier's Award in 1997 and 1998 so last month's ceremony was particularly timely to honour this trio of exceptional women.

Lionel Levers, like Esme, experienced discrimination and he fought it in his various work places because he was a man who stood his ground when he knew he was right. After working in the cane industry he became a respected and valued employee of Queensland Rail where he worked till his retirement in 1994. Lionel loved his family and their deep love for him was expressed in an account of his life and in moving tributes given in song, poetry and on paintings on his casket by his children and grandchildren. Sonny, Lionel's son, demonstrated great strength and courage speaking in the eulogy to and both his auntie and Father and supporting other family members and friends in their grief.

I seek leave to table a poem written by Nicky Dorante in memory of her grandfather, Lionel, as I'm sure it will bring comfort to others grieving for lost loved ones.

Tiger O'Shane was a larger than life Irishman who travelled to Australia as a 14-year-old and was also renowned as a worker-shearer, seaman, wharfie, boxer, cane cutter, and a man with a passion for life. He married Gladys Dawn, an Aboriginal woman from Mossman, and lived in Freshwater - my home - before settling at Holloways Beach in 1947 where they raised their five children, Pat, Terry, Margaret, Danny and Tim. I never had the privilege of knowing Tiger well, but he instilled into his children the same values as did Lionel and Esme because, according to his daughter Pat, he taught them that all human beings are the same and that they were as good as anyone else at a time when prejudice and ignorance prevailed.

The legacy of these three special people lives on in their children and while the community may have lost three of its elders, their children will undoubtedly become the elders of tomorrow demonstrating as they do the intelligence, passion, commitment and courage of their parents to make a better tomorrow and serve as role models for the next generation and who are living testament to Auntie Es's motto, "There is no such thing as can't". God bless you for that gift and may you rest in peace.

The Pad Boys - Are Playing At The Fair

They say that if you can last five years together, then you're in with a good chance to make the long haul. For a band with members younger than 21, Kuranda's the Pad Boys are innocent veterans. Yet doing the hard yards has proven a reliable formula, and the band are now recognised as one of North Queensland's hardest working indigenous acts. William Duffin (guitars, vocals), Timmy Wason (bass, vocals) and Dennis Hunter (drums, vocals), with the assistance of Andy Duffin (didgeridoo), have evolved as a dynamic new force. Their recent performance at the Laura Festival was testament to the growing recognition the band has garnered through solid live gigging. After a long anticipated wait, the band have finally recorded professionally, with the assistance of a successful RADF grant through the Mareeba Shire Council! They have recently recorded three tracks at Nigel Pegrum's Select Sound Studio, songs for their debut EP "Tell me why?", to be released in October. They are also producing an accompanying music video with emerging film hotshot, Rhys Day. Playing live, is of course the Pad Boys' forte'. They induce dancing through infectious rhythms, and their heart felt passion for music. They constantly ignite crowds, and at many a festival you might find the Pad Boys playing. With performances to the last 2 Woodford Folk Festivals under their belt, they are no strangers to large crowds. They will again be travelling South this year to Woodford. Their new songs, confidence, roots/reggae, jazzy soul sort of retro good time is a wonderful, universal combination, and they do their Djabuguy people very proud. The Pad Boys are playing Saturday the 25th of September at the Kuranda Spring Fair, and on Sunday the 26th at Kuranda Amphitheatre understage with Maleny based band Kol Hashalom.

WAIT-A-WHILE

REPORT BY DR LESLEY CLARK MEMBER FOR BARRON RIVER

The long-awaited transport options report of Stage 2 of the integrated Transport Study for the Kuranda Range was released in late August. The public information evening at the Kuranda Rainforest Resort attracted only a handful of people. The presentation by the Consultants was excellent and included a computer simulation of driving and flying over the range road as a four lane road with short tunnels and bridges. I hope that the lack of response means that people have enough information from other sources, including last month's Kuranda Paper rather than a lack of interest because it is important that the Kuranda community is well informed about this issue. Copies of the full report are available for viewing at the Kuranda Library and at my office and executive summaries are available free of charge. Submissions close on 27th September and I would like to know your views. For any queries about the study or how to make submissions, phone freecall 1800 661188. The next stage of the study will be a detailed impact assessment of four options within the central corridor route between Smithfield and Kuranda. These options include short and long tunnels, bridges and divided carriage-ways, Routes C2 and C5 incorporate two short tunnels under ridges and bridges over gullies to improve fauna crossings and preserve riparian vegetation. These options are considered to be the most environmentally sensitive and cost between $362 million and $397 million. My support for a tunnel was based on a belief that it would be the best on environmental grounds but the need to retain the existing road with a tunnel option means that wildlife still face the hazard of crossing the Kennedy Highway, whereas with both the C2 and C5 options, road crossings can be totally avoided near the top of the range, giving cassowaries the ability to move safely across their territory. The huge cost of all of the options to upgrade the range road and the impact of increased urbanisation at Myola are still of great concern to me and I will be keeping in close contact with members of the Community Reference Group as the next stage of the study proceeds.

Good news this week for the young people in Kuranda with the commencement of the extension of the library to create a special "youth space". This $55,000 joint State and local government project has been made possible by a State Library Innovation grant to Mareeba Shire Council of $22,156. I congratulate library staff for putting together an excellent submission and the Council for contributing the matching funding needed to make the project possible. There were 67 entries from 32 local authorities which confirms the quality of the Kuranda submission, which was judged on degree of creativity, benefit to the community, social impact and cooperative arrangements. I know that young people in Kuranda will enjoy being involved in planning the activities for their 'youth space' and making best use of the opportunities it provides for fun, friendships and learning. I will be meeting soon with the Rotary Club to discuss their proposal for a youth centre in Kuranda. This idea has lots of merit and it has my full support. Any projects that provide constructive, enjoyable youth activities should be encouraged because they all help to prevent young people getting caught up in crime, drugs or alcohol abuse out of sheer boredom or frustration.

Last week Peter Beattie presented the budget to the State Parliament. This responsible $16.8 billion budget will see only a modest increase in overall spending of 1.3% and no new taxes. However it was a landmark budget in so far as it lays the foundation for Queensland to become the 'Smart State' by providing strategic investment in education and in exciting, new industries like information technology and bio-technology. The number one government priority remains job creation and the allocation of $359 million for capital works in Far North Queensland will generate significant employment and confirms the government's commitment to our region. While most of the major local capital works projects like the Cairns Base Hospital and the Convention Centre are in Cairns City, Barron Gorge National Park's additional visitor infrastructure projects, worth in excess of $1 million will proceed this year and the Barron Gorge power station will have a major maintenance upgrade worth $782,000 overall. I am also hoping that public housing and police resources in Kuranda will be improved as a result of the budget. Road funds will also flow to Mareeba Shire Council for its nominated road projects under the Transport Infrastructure Development Scheme. Please call my office directly if you have any specific queries about the budget.

Finally, my condolences to the Hudson and Levers families on the sad passing of Esme Hudson and Lionel Levers.

The businesses who donated goods - The Rainforest Resort, The Australian Butterfly Sanctuary, Skyscreamer, Frogs Restaurant, Kangaventure, The Honey House, The Kuranda News Agency, The Great Australian Ice Creamery, and Annabels Pies. Dr Lesley Clark, Lance Riley and the Mayor Chris Lewis, what a team when they presented Roy Moggs beautiful crafted Didgeridoo. Look for an even bigger finish next year - PHEW!

A growing business The company that produced the stunning Blue Box Didgeridoo given as a trophy for the winner of the Croc Race was BIYU Aboriginal Crafts. I visited their workshop and was so impressed by their great positive business attitude, something some of the larger companies should copy.

Well deserved! Local Kuranda resident Waltburg Leinichen has always got a friendly smile and as Skyrail's Kuranda reservations person her job must sometimes get very stressful. Waltburg's efforts were rewarded recently at a cocktail party held by the FNQ Tourism Hospitality Awards where she was the August award winner. Outcomes Of Kuranda Cemetery Meeting

About 36 residents were present at the meeting called by the Kuranda's Cemetery Committee to discuss the present and future situation regarding Kuranda's cemetery. Mark Freeman gave an overview of the history going back some 17 years when it was first advised that the cemetery would be full and that action needed to be taken. The reports prepared by Council and their advisers were discussed. The meeting also heard of the distress caused to our local families when the Council closed the cemetery and family members had to be buried outside of our town. Fortunately, after presentations by the Cemetery committee, the Council subsequently reopened the cemetery on land not previously utilised.

Mayor Chris Lewis then outlined the outcome of an inspection made by the council and the cemetery committee and advised that there was a chance of a successful outcome in the future - but that the details were of necessity confidential at present. Questions from those present were addressed to the Mayor and there was a general feeling that the Council's actions in the past were deficient, and in some cases defective. Comments from those in attendance included -

* Kuranda Environment Assn - There is no environmental reason why the cemetery could not be extended on its present location.

* Djabugai - The culture and needs of the Djabugai people had been ignored.

* Cemetery Committee - Some of the Council's report gave an erroneous slant to the facts.

The meeting moved a motion that requested the Council move to solve the existing problem as soon as possible and that the cemetery be located near the existing cemetery and that it be within walking distance of town. A regional cemetery at Lamb Range was not acceptable to the community and the Council's inaction in the past did not match their responsibilities to Kuranda.

A further motion was moved to thank the Cemetery committee for their work.

News from St Saviour's Church

A busy time for all at St Saviour's with it, now becoming a separate Parish within the Diocese of North Queensland from the 1st of September 1999: having its own Church wardens and Parish council. It has also been a time for historical reflection as on the 15th September we celebrated 110 years of continual Anglican (Church of England) worship in Kuranda. The first service was held on Sunday the 15th September 1889. The Rev'd Thomas Regg came up from Cairns to officiate: his sermon text was from St Matthews Gospel chapter 8.verses 2-3 and the collection amounted to 14 shillings. To celebrate this milestone an open-air service was held on Sunday the 19th at 5.00pm followed by a fellowship meal. It has also been busy with other activities with practice for the Spring fair Billy's Billy cart time trials and scarecrow making for the Greenhouse Environmental Shops Scarecrow Competition. On Sunday the 26th of September the annual animals blessing service will be held as part of the 9.30am family Eucharist. This service is usually held on the Sunday nearest St Francis day but has been moved forward a week, due to the visit by Bishop Arthur Malcolm for confirmation. All types of pets may be brought along. In the past we have had dogs, cats, cockatoos, guinea pigs, and white mice. On Sunday the 3rd October, Bishop Arthur Malcolm will again visit St. Saviour's for Confirmation at 9.30am. The next Sunday, October the 10th is Harvest festival. This year the church will be decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables and there will be special Harvest Services at 8.00am 9.30am and at 5.00pm when Bishop Tony hall - Matthews will be the guest preacher. Following the service at 6.00pm the produce will be sold in aid of Anglican Board of Mission - Australia. Fr. Chris Wright.

HYDROPONIC GARDENING

By Jan Coulter

I was talking to somebody down south and mentioned that August was a wonderful month in the garden. They thought how come as it was winter, but August in Cairns is different. Everything takes off. My tomatoes were a beautiful rich red just like somebody had added colour to them. They also are a taste sensation. This year also has been the best ever for strawberries. Once again they taste beautiful. The right nutrient makes a lot of difference to strawberries. I bought a huge capsicum from the supermarket and thought I would like to grow one like that. I kept the seeds and inside a couple of weeks I had capsicum plants. They grew just like those in the supermarket. I grow them in a 20 litre container with part of the top cut out and put a length of 1" plastic pipe in the filler hole to tie the plants to for support. This container will support two capsicum or tomato plants. I have just planted some cucumber. I plant them in a box on a bench and let them hang over. I have tried them on the fence surrounding the garden but the wallabies eat them. Growing them up off the ground also keeps them away from the bugs. I grow them right through the summer I just have the reservoir underneath them a little higher so that they have more nutrient available in the hot weather. For information -Jan Coulter 40930394

ORGANIC GARDENING by Marjorie Spear

It is a wonderful spring in my garden. My injured back still makes bending very painful but watering with a hose has not been very much needed as my vegies and herbs are well mulched with decomposing wood chips.

The orchids which I grow on my trees are very very lovely and get no attention. They dislike hot afternoon sun and are a joy to look at when I sit on a verandah that surrounds my high set house - a good rail and very low steps make walking upstairs possible. When I designed my house 32 years ago I had Dachsund dogs with short legs so the staircase had to have low steps - what a blessing now for me in old age.

The Dachsunds have long since gone to heaven. My Jack Russell cross Whippet can manage high steps - she can also bark well at intruders . . . I have a large vacant furnished caravan if anyone (with no children) would like a comfortable home in return for some help in my organic garden. Phone me 4093 7205 if interested. Yellow Poinsettia cuttings are available free - NOW! Red poinsettias (double) are a mass of flowers and cuttings ready in late October. Poinsettias do better if cut back annually to about 3 ft from ground level - these tips are left in the shade to dry off (maybe 2 weeks or more) and then planted out - yours for the taking.

"Weed like you to be there, Buster"

Weedbuster week is 10-17 October.

KURANDA EnviroCare and Kuranda High School are joining forces with the Department of Natural Resources (Land Protection section) and Mareeba Shire Council for a weedbusting working-bee.

On Wednesday 13th October from noon to 3pm at Kuranda High, you are invited to join the students in the classroom for an information session on how to identify weeds and how they can be dealt with, followed by a picnic lunch in the school grounds provided by members of KURANDA EnviroCare. We welcome any sandwich-making and cake-baking assistance you can give in this regard bearing in mind the target to satisfy you, me and 50 hollow-legged youngsters. After lunch, we'll move into the field to identify the weeds that have invaded the area and 'bust' them.

To complement this weed-busting rampage, we'll plant the first 100 trees to launch Council's revegetation program for the school. In time, these trees will break the weed cycle in Nature's own, chemical-free way.

This will be a community-wide, positive, educational and constructive event.

Green Corps Applications closing

The Green Corps project commences on 4th October. Applications close this week for people between the ages of 17 and 20 who would like to gain a range of on-ground skills and environmental education while being paid a wage. The program runs for 6 months. Application forms available from KURANDA EnviroCare or from ATCV in Townsville, phone (07) 4721 4077.

Feeding Stations for Cassowaries

In conjunction with the Queensland Parks & Wildlife Service, we are planning to collect suitable fruit and put it out for Cassowaries to short-circuit their journey to the road side. The Cassowaries are coming to the roads either to access food trees on the other side or to pick up litter thrown out of cars (the worst sort of food imaginable). The birds are on the move at this time because of the seasonal shortage of their natural food. The purpose of the feeding stations is to provide enough of the right sort of food to tide them over temporarily.

We don't want the birds to become dependent upon the feeding stations, nor do we want them to associate this food with people. It may be necessary to place the food at some point along their track at night when they are not around.

You can assist in several ways: by collecting or allowing fruit to be collected from trees on your property; by being a fruit collector; and/or being one of the people to take the food to the feeding stations. Please add your name to the growing list: phone 4093 7570.

EnviroCare every Saturday 8am-9am

Happily we can report good attendance at our Saturday morning tree-planting bees. Some people pop in, do their bit and pop out, others stay on planting or potting over a bottomless cuppa. Everyone loves it. Give KURANDA EnviroCare a call on 4093 7570 to find out where we'll be working or to arrange a lift.

Give and Save

We are pleased to announce that having jumped through every bureaucratic hoop imaginable, KURANDA EnviroCare is now able to receive donations or gifts for which the donor can claim a tax deduction. Think of what you could save by giving it all away!

We've Been Busy

- During September, we assisted the Kuranda Primary School with a morning of practical science activities. Our task was to explain the meaning of biodiversity, but the real drawcard was for each child to pot a seedling tree and attach a tag with their name on it. Forty trees were potted and will eventually be planted out in the EnviroLink Corridor.
- We had a day with the Kuranda Scout Group at Big Sands, Kowrowa, potting up seedlings from the ground, identifying plants and learning about conservation. In perfect weather, we also enjoyed a swim and a picnic lunch.
- The idea of a Land Trust for Queensland is gaining momentum. Land Trust is a non-government mechanism which will allow you to preserve the conservation values of your property into the future while allowing you to continue to carry on your current activities. It may suit your purpose. We have information which may be of interest to you.

The next meeting of KURANDA EnviroCare INC. will be at 7pm on Wednesday 6th October at the Kuranda Rainforest Resort.

Dr Bruce Whitten will present his botanical report for the EnviroLink Wildlife Corridor and Michelle Morris will discuss the Regional Communities Program.

Telita Donahue is one of several Kuranda Aboriginal Art Students who have produced excellent works on canvas. The class hopes to exhibit and sell work in November.

Spring Fair Saturday 25th September - look out for the Kuranda Community Kindergarten. We will be providing bubble blowing paraphernalia for children at the riverside, below the railway station, in the morning Sausage Sizzle will be available throughout the afternoon, with the usual tempting aromas and appeal of eating al fresco in the Park. A great variety of activities for the children will be available from 3pm onwards - painting, clay, and collage to name a few. Lookout for the KCKA area in the Park - enjoy a sausage while the children create a work of art. We've just concluded a successful term of fundraising and look forward to more support to see us through the fourth and final term of 1999. We are getting together a wheelbarrow full of gardening goodies which will be raffled in the coming months, make sure you're in-to-win! Christmas catalogues are in circulation amongst the parents and carers of kindy and preschoolers. If you are interested in a fantastic range of quality educational toys please ask a parent to share theirs and place your order. Some of the toys are not available locally so its a great opportunity to ensure a BIG surprise for Christmas Christmas Party at the Community Kindergarten - we plan to hold a Grand Finale Christmas Party on a Saturday morning, towards the end of the fourth term. All future, existing and just interested parents and their families will be most welcome to join in this huge fun day. Watch this space for details. Kindergarten Group have been discussing families. Many photos, some very old, have been brought along to create fascinating family trees, exhibiting some strong family resemblances through the generations. The Kindy children have been spending a lot of time in the digging patch, experiencing the difference between mud and sand. Mud holds its shape and retains water much better than sand, so inspires different play and experiments. Last week treasure in the shape of large clods of earth influenced a game that involved pirates and rum making machines. The previously learned song "The Day I went to Sea" was revived. The children also spend a lot of time in the painting and collage area, with some help, enjoy experimenting with colour, shape, lines and mass. The clay area is also well used as the children practice manipulating the clay and forming the shapes they need, some amazing creations result. The Preschoolers walked into the village recently as part of their project about "Our Town and what's special". They discussed and tried out their sense of direction, took some short cuts, visited a shop and felt the vibrations caused by the buses and trucks as they stood near the bridge. The walk took the children down under the bridge to have a look at its construction. The children have also been writing a book about our town. The group recently attended the Civic Theatre to see "Jenny and the Tennis Nut", next year Lorraine hopes to organise the Kite Theatre to perform at the centre. Term Dates for the last term of 1999 -Kindy begins Monday, 4th October, Preschool- Wednesday 6th October, Term ends Friday 17th December

THE EMF BALANCING TECHNIQUE®

The EMF Balancing Technique® is a new, completely innovative system working through intent to create optimal health and awareness. This system works with your own electro-magnetic energy which helps you to link your Spirit and Biology. There are four phases to this work. After completing each of the four phases in sequence, you may choose to repeat any of them individually or in combination.

The four phases assist you in accessing more of your potential by: (1) Balancing your Head and Heart (Wisdom & Emotions) - Phase I; (2) increasing Self-direction and Self-support by releasing past blocks - Phase II; (3) radiating Core Energy to increase the flow of the wisdom of Spirit throughout all aspects of your life - Phase III; and (4) Energetic Accomplishment which helps you to connect to and communicate with your Future Potential Self - Phase IV.

The four phases developed by Peggy Phoenix Dubro are based on working with the 12 strands of Light she sees around every person. Using hands on and hands off techniques along with specific intents, the practitioner assists the client to strengthen the connection between these fibres and the Universal consciousness which surrounds each of us. The purpose of the intents for each session is to bring to conscious awareness the goals of the session. Individual goals for a session can range from simply stress relief to realising (maximising) an individual's fullest potential.

During each session of the EMF Balancing Technique®, the practitioner works directly with the strands and with the chakra centres to assist the individual in holding more of their power with ease and grace. As they do so, the energy that no longer supports the client at his/her current level is released and recirculates through the biofield to its next best pattern.

Emotional releases are very gentle, as the technique works on a very subtle level. Clients have described EMF sessions as empowering, sacred, loving, elegant, sophisticated, and fun. See Gail at the massage stall in the Heritage Markets and experience a Mini-Session.

"The EMF Balancing Technique® is a new energy system designed to accelerate the integration of Spirit and biology, so that you can increase your health and co-create the miracle that you are."

A Thought for October By Fr. Chris Wright

This month open your bible to St Matthew gospel Chapter 18.verses 1-25 read the passage through. All of us have problems with forgiveness, I do and will admit it openly I am human. There are little things in life, which are easy to forgive because they don't really test us, but all of us can experience deep hurts and betrayals, which really do. I suspect that most of us know at least one person who carries the grim burden of not being able to forgive. The subject came up one day between Jesus and his disciples. Jesus had just been chatting about the handling of hurts and disagreements, the ways to try to reopen communication between people. If we look back at the verse 20 in chapter 19 just before this passage, we see Jesus saying that wherever two or three are gathered in his name he is there in their midst. Jesus seems to be saying that when we succeed in finding reconciliation or oneness between us he is actually there! It was Peter who responded to the theme of looking for reconciliation. He asked a very human question. How many times should one forgive? To answer his own question he suggests the standards he grew up with. The law suggested seven times; by human standards that is most gracious. But Jesus rather takes the wind out of our sails by demanding that we have no limit to our forgiving. In effect that is what "seventy times seven" means. To illustrate it, Jesus tells the story of the man who, forgiven a large debt, went out and forced someone to repay him an outstanding tiny debt. What Jesus is teaching us is the devastating truth that we should be perpetually forgiving because we ourselves are perpetually in need of forgiveness by other people and most certainly by God! Our Lord is trying to get us to understand that forgiving and being forgiven is a mysterious and complex process. The whole point of the story is that the man who refuses to forgive someone else cannot really accept and benefit from the forgiveness he has received in the first place. When we are hurt or betrayed how are we at forgiving? How high do we rate its importance? At first sight it doesn't seem too vital an ability; many others seem more important. (Very few professional questionnaires ask us to rate our capacity for forgiveness!) Yet forgiving is so important for Jesus that he places it right at the very heart of the prayer he taught us. (The Lords prayer- the Our Father) That clause is also the only conditional one in the prayer; it says that we can receive forgiveness only if we give it. Nothing could be more understandable. Can we forgive? Can we reconcile?

The EMF Balancing Technique®

Julie Ramige and Aleisha Klein
 Teacher/Practitioners

The EMF Balancing Technique® is a new and unique SELF-EMPOWERING energy balancing system designed to help each of us get more in touch with ourselves - with who we really are and why we are here.

It helps us:

- 1) to relax and de-stress.
- 2) to balance our mind & emotions (head & heart).
- 3) to see that our past life experiences are events that support us rather than hold us back.
- 4) to be more present and hold more of our 'own power' (core energy).
- 5) to get more in touch with our own potential - to become more aware of what we are really here for - what direction to take.

EMF involves both hands on and hands off techniques. Clients have described EMF sessions as empowering, sacred, loving, elegant, sophisticated and fun.

GARDEN GROUP

contributed by Marjorie Spear

All are welcome at our get together at the lovely garden of Judy Colley, 7 Koah Rd. (see sign) near the highway. Please bring a plate to share at Smoko; and also any questions and interesting cuttings to give away. We aim to encourage gardeners in Kuranda to grow plants that we can eat and also enjoy looking at and that need little care and no poisons to keep healthy. Phone me, Marjorie Spear on 4093 7205 for a lift or roots of canna lilies, heliconias. Our visit to the Cairns Botanic Gardens for our September get together was poorly attended as Fathers Day was a counter attraction - the gardens were lovely and lots of stalls selling plants and herbs etc. were very interesting.

HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY THOUGH ELDERLY

by Marjorie Spear

Life has been difficult since my bad falls. I do gentle exercises several times a day. These are prescribed by a physiotherapist. I also use an electric massager all round my back between spine and hips. My walking stick is a necessity. My eyesight is very poor and a magnifying glass makes reading possible but difficult even with a good light. Getting to Cairns for medical appointments or shopping is a nightmare. My organic herbs and vegies are a great help in keeping healthy.

EAT YOURSELF TO GREAT HEALTH

There is considerable public interest in ways of eating a more healthy diet. Many people have been shifting toward a low fat, high-fibre diet, often achieved by the substitution of vegetable and cereal foods for meat products. All diets need to contain nutrients from a wide variety of food sources, and this applies equally to Vegan and any other 'dietary' pattern.

Enough of the rave, and now for the Slice Base: Exotic Kiwi fruit tahini custard Vegan slice.

- 1 cup of freshly ground almonds
- 1 cup of rolled oats
- 1 cup of organic rice flour
- 1 tsp ground cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons rice malt
- Half a cup of macadamia oil
- 1 quarter cup of apple juice (approx)

Method: Mix together all the dry ingredients with your fingers. Mix in the rice malt and add macadamia oil until well combined. Pour the apple juice a tablespoon at a time until the mixture binds into a pastry ball. Press into the flan tin and bake at 100degrees C for ten minutes until beginning to brown. Remove from oven and cool.

Slice Custard Filling:

- 2 and a half cups of apple juice
- 1 and a quarter tsp of agar agar
- 3 tablespoons of rice malt
- 1 tablespoon of arrowroot
- 2 tablespoons of tahini
- 2 tsp of pure vanilla essence

Method: Heat two cups of the apple juice with rice malt and vanilla essence. Dissolve agar and arrowroot in the half cup of apple juice. Take one cup of the warmed apple juice and dissolve tahini. Add dissolved agar and arrowroot to hot liquid and bring to the boil. Remove from the heat, cool slightly, add tahini mixture and stir until smooth. Pour into flan case and allow to set.

Assembling The Slice: When the tahini custard has set, arrange sliced Kiwi fruit (or straw-berries) on top. Brush with an apple juice glaze made by boiling 250ml of apple juice with half a teaspoon of agar or, give the glaze a pink tinge by adding a little dark grape juice to the apple juice. Allow to set.

POEM - Anon.

If you think you are beaten, you are
If you think you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win but you think you can't
It is almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost,
For out in the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are
You've got to think high to rise.
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can.

Alcohol & Drug Bulletin

KISC applauds the recent local efforts to discuss concerns about drug use, and especially the fact that a collaborative effort between various interested community organisations and members is being made. In the following article we again contribute information we hope will be of interest and use.

"NO QUICK FIX" It's more puzzling than ever why addicts need a bigger hit. Scientists assumed that drug tolerance developed as a result of opiate receptors becoming reduced in cells chronically exposed to addictive drugs, and that addicts had to take higher doses to get the same effect. However recent American research has discovered that the body's own painkillers, it's natural opiates, removes even more receptors than addictive drugs such as morphine and methadone. While it is too early to say how this new understanding can be used to treat addiction, scientists involved are excited by the possibility of being closer to discovering the physical causes of addiction through the knowledge that natural opiates and addictive drugs working on the same receptor may make the cell do different things. POLICE RAP

Recently the Kuranda Police said farewell to Constables Jon Gordon and Geoff Robins. Both have moved on transfer with Jon being promoted to Senior Constable in charge of the Mount Surprise Police Division. Geoff who speaks fluent Japanese has returned to the Regional Police headquarters formulating procedures to assist with overseas visitors to our end of the State. We wish them both the very best and thank them for the help and contribution they have made to our community.

On a welcoming note we also extend our warm welcome to Constables Lock SMITHERS and Cassandra ADIDI. Both have come from that place somewhere past Gordonvale. I think it's called Brisbane!! Both Lock and Cassandra have settled in well and look forward to 'broadening their horizons' in this diverse community of ours.

A sizely flotilla will be afloat on the mighty Barron this Saturday at 11:00 am. The most honourable judges will be checking all rafts to ensure those that are competing for the coveted prize are designed and operated in accordance with the 'Rafferty's Rules', or should we say the 'Rafting Rules'. Rev. Chris may also be in a position to receive and 'donations' to the church prior to the examination of the vessels and the blessing of the fleet !!!!!!!

The course will be told to one and all at the Calcutta on Friday night in Billies Bar, Top Pub. All skippers and crew must be present to register by 7.30 pm. Information on the rafts will be passed to all persons interested and the Calcutta will commence. Funds raised from the night will partly go to the purchaser of the winning raft and to the Committee to assist with the advertising and organisation of the Festival.

If when reading this you find that the race has been run and we are the winners, we extend our sincere commiserations to all fellow seafarers and offer our best wishes with the 'Church' and hope the contribution is put to good use !!

On a Policing note please remember that the engraver is at the Roscommon Tavern available for those persons wishing to use it to mark their property. This can certainly help the Police with tracking down the property in the event that it may be stolen.

29 September 1999 is the National Police Remembrance Day. This year it will be held in Saint Joseph's Church in Atherton, details are at the Kuranda Station. It is an important day for all Police as we remember the officers who have been killed in the line of duty throughout Queensland and all Police Services in Australia. For the first time in Australia a Remembrance Flag will be dedicated at a ceremony on the day. This flag carries the names of all officers who were killed in the Mareeba Police District of which the Kuranda area is part. I encourage all members of the community to attend and support your local Police on this sad but important day. Please contact myself or Julie at the Station if you wish to know more or perhaps would like transport to Atherton on the day.

Regards Sergeant Steve

ARTIST PROFILE

JOHN TINDAL

CLAY WORKER / SCULPTOR

John started taking lessons in pottery in the early 1990's, under the guidance of Lindsay Wilson. John prefers to hand build all his pieces and enjoys adding a playfulness to his works, especially his ladies carrying large bowls, candles or thick thighs. John Tindal is well known for his life size sculptural black heads, each one uniquely different, each with a story to it's face. John has a long history of artistic ability and over the few years he has been working with clay he has won several awards and seen his works snapped up by local and overseas collectors. John's work can be seen at the Kuranda Arts Co-op.

Library News By Kath Raward

Well folks the good news is that work has commenced on the New Library Building extension. Its main function is to house the NEW Youth Space and the Junior Library Collections. Soon there will be a special function where Kuranda Youth will have a chance to have their say about the sorts of Music, Videos and Books they would like to see in their special space. So stay tuned for details of the time and place for this special event. The Library will be employing a Youth Worker to consult with the local kids for this special project. We have been so busy in the Library with the recent Council Rates. It was great to see so many people taking advantage of the extra library and Office hours to join or borrow from the Library. Great new books in this month include "The complete idiot's guide to Dating". Yes, you read it correctly! The rules of the game, communication, "getting back into the saddle" and other issues for the newly single are all explored with frank humour and practical advise. Totally unrelated but an outstanding new book is "The design sourcebook for mosaics". For those who know the technique of "Mosaic", this book is a beautiful portfolio of contemporary work produced by mosaic artist and professionals. It is truly inspirational. Hope to see you all at the Spring Fair and later at the upcoming Youth Space events.

Anthony Riley completing art work he hopes to exhibit and sell in November
